FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USD'S "UPDATE" BUSINESS SERIES

CONTINUES OCTOBER 29

The fifth series of seminars in the University of San Diego's "UPDATE" breakfast program will be held on Friday, October 29 from 7:30 to 9:00 a.m.

Registration is $20 for each seminar sponsored by the USD School of Business Administration and Continuing Education. Each seminar includes a continental breakfast, presentation, and materials. For information and reservations call 293-4585.

"Sexual Harassment is Not a Laughing Matter" will be presented at the Little America Westgate by Johanna S. Hunsaker, Ph.D., assistant professor of management. Hunsaker explains what sexual harassment is, what legal guidelines exist for dealing with it, and, specifically, for what a company can be held liable. Recourse opportunities for those subjected to harassment while on the job will be presented.

Poway's Stoneridge Country Club is the setting for "What to Expect in the Coming Economy and How to Deal With It" presented by associate professor of economics Charles F. Holt, Ph.D. Dr. Holt discusses the state of the economy and forecasts developments influencing inflation, unemployment and interest rates. Strategies for coping with future trends in personal and business situations will be provided.

"Keeping Productivity Up" is the topic at the La Jolla Village Inn, La Jolla, presented by associate professor of economics Robert R. Johnson, Ph.D. Productivity in the U.S. will be compared with that of foreign competitors and methods will be suggested to increase worker output and implement organizational changes to improve the flow of ideas to management. Johnson presents methods to determine whether an organization is achieving its full potential.
